Protest Closing of Crossing.

The proposition submitted by the C.P.R. last week to close the railway crossing at the north-end of town, has aroused considerable opposition on the part of those ratepayers within the vicinity.

A deputation numbering between twenty and twenty-five attended a special meeting of the Town Council on Monday night in connection with the matter.

The Mayor briefly explained the object of the meeting, and went on to say that the C.P.R. required extra trackage in order to accommodate more elevators. There would also be erected another oil station and some coal sheds. The railway had expressed its willingness to open another crossing two blocks further north.

F. Moyle objected to the crossing being closed on the ground that it would depreciate value of property. It would also compel a large number of school children to walk during the day a considerable distance further.

S. G. Watt presented a petition, signed by a number of ratepayers and others, against the application of the C.P.R. being granted. He also pointed out the serious inconvenience which the North End Lumber Co. would be put to if the crossing were closed.

Messrs. Leadbetter and McKenna contended that the elevators already here could accommodate and handle all the grain that could be brought in.

Others also spoke, including C. Adshead and W. Wigglesworth.

The main points brought out by the deputation against the closing were—

1. That it would be detrimental to the interests of the business men in the vicinity.
2. Would depreciate value of property east of the track.
3. Would compel school children to make a detour of two blocks.
4. Further elevators not required as those already established are ample to cope with any business offered.

After the deputation of ratepayers had withdrawn, the Council dealt with the various objections offered. Nothing definite, however, resulted, and probably another meeting will be called.

Rinks Ltd. Meet.

The annual meeting of the Didsbury Rinks Ltd. was held in the C.P.R. waiting room on Thursday evening of last week. Clark occupied the chair, and Dr. Evans as secretary took a record of the proceedings.

The election of officers resulted in an unanimous vote of confidence by the shareholders, and consequently these will appear as last year, viz—

President, Dr. Clark; vice-president, J. Reed; sec.-treas., Dr. Evans; auditor, A. Brusso; directors, H. W. Chambers, W. G. Leisemer, J. A. McGhee, J. H. Lowrie, J. V. Berscht.

Considerable discussion took place re expenditure and revenue, more especially however with a view to increasing the latter.

The carnival committee will consist of A. C. Fisher, S. G. Watt, J. W. Phillipson and W. G. Leisemer.

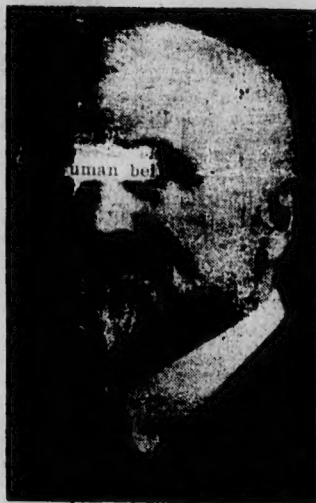

Several matters in connection with the skating rink and Curling Club were discussed, during which Mr. Watt outlined the methods pursued at Hanna. Eventually, however, it was left to the executive to formulate a policy and arrange a meeting with the Curling Club to talk matters over.

CURLERS! ATTENTION

A meeting of the Curling Club will be held in the C.P.R. waiting room on Monday evening next, October 26th, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance will be discussed and a full attendance is requested.

The new store of J. V. Berscht is now practically completed, and his stock of goods will be moved in as quickly as possible.

this notice at least thirty-three resident electors of the municipality petition the council to submit such by-law to the vote of the resident electors of the municipality the Council will proceed to pass the same.

Liberal Candidate for the Red Deer Federal Riding.

TO THE ELECTORS.

Olds, Alta., Sept. 28, 1925
Ladies and Gentlemen:

This is to inform you that at an open convention of Liberals held at Red Deer on the 21st day of September, 1925, an unanimous nomination was tendered me by that gathering. While this was quite unexpected, I accepted the honor and shall always appreciate it regardless of the result.

I have resided in the vicinity of Olds for over twenty-six years and during that period have continued my farming operations as well as being interested in the mercantile business. Since the day I was entitled to exercise the franchise I have always taken a keen interest in public affairs.

Between now and election day it is obviously impossible for me to see every elector personally, but will see all I possibly can. As many meetings as can be arranged will be held in public halls, school houses and Community halls, to be addressed by myself and others on my behalf.

If, after you have read, heard and deliberated upon the issues of this campaign, and my qualifications are such that you see fit to elect me as your representative, I shall, feel further honored and will serve you to the best of my ability, with HONESTY IN ADMINISTRATION and the practice of STRICT ECONOMY foremost in my mind.

Yours faithfully,
THOS. MCKERCHER.

SYNOPSIS

McTaggart, the post trader, finding Baree, the wolf-dog, trapped in one of his game snares, struck him a blow with a club. Then he bundled him into a sack and carried him to the cabin of Pierrot, the trapper, where he went to demand the hand of Nepeese, the trapper's daughter. The girl recognized Baree and when she saw he had been injured she turned in anger at McTaggart. Baree, freeing himself, fastened his teeth in the factor's leg. McTaggart drew his revolver, but Nepeese raised the dog in her arms.

CHAPTER XIII.—Continued.

"Let us leave them to fight it out between themselves, m'sieu," he said. "They are two little fire-brands, and we are not safe. If she is bitten—" He shrugged his shoulders. A great load had been lifted from them suddenly. His voice was soft and persuasive. And now the anger had gone out of the Willow's face. A coquettish uplift of her eyes caught McTaggart, and she looked straight at him half smiling, as she spoke to her father:

"I will join you soon, mon pere—you and M'sieu the Factor from Lac Bain!"

There were undeniable little devils in her eyes, McTaggart thought—the devil's laughing full at him as she spoke, setting his brain on fire and his blood to running wildly. Those eyes—full of dancing witches! How he would tame them and play with them—very soon now. He followed Pierrot outside. In his exultation he no longer felt the smart of Baree's teeth.

Half an hour later Nepeese came out of the cabin. She could see that Pierrot and the Factor had been talking about something that had not been pleasant to her father. His face was strained. She caught in his eyes the smoulder of fire which he was trying to smother, as one might smother flames under a blanket. McTaggart's jaws were set, but the eyes flared up with pleasure when he saw her. She knew what it was about. The Factor from Lac Bain had been demanding his answer of Pierrot, and

ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK NOW

Sick a Year. Got Great Benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomington, N. S.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and backache, also for nervousness, sick headaches and sleeplessness. I was troubled in this way for over a year, and a friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and induced me to take it. I must say I have received great benefit from it and am able to do my housework now. I recommend the Vegetable Compound myself and am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. WILLIAM MORSE, Bloomington, Annapolis County, N. S.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

Mrs. Morse is simply another case of a woman receiving "great benefit." Women suffering from the troubles so common to their sex should listen to what other women say who have experienced the same sufferings and found relief. Give this dependable medicine a chance—and at once. It is sold at all drug stores.

Pierrot had been telling him what she had insisted upon—that he must come to her. And he was coming! She turned with a quick beating of the heart and hurried down a little path. She heard McTaggart's footsteps behind her, and threw the flash of a smile over her shoulder. But her teeth were set tight. The nails of her fingers were cutting into the palms of her hands.

Pierrot stood without moving. He watched them as they disappeared into the forest, Nepeese still a few steps ahead of McTaggart. Out of his breast rose a sharp breath.

"Par les mille cornes du diable!" he swore softly. "It is impossible—that she smiles from her heart at that beast? No! It is impossible. And yet—if it is so—"

One of his brown hands tightened convulsively about the handle of the knife in his belt, and slowly he began to follow them.

"His arms were about her like bands of iron."

McTaggart did not hurry to overtake Nepeese. She was following the narrow path deeper into the forest, and he was glad of that. They would be alone—away from Pierrot. He was ten steps behind her, and again the Willow smiled at him over her shoulder. Her body moved sinuously and swiftly. She was keeping accurate measurement of the distance between them—but McTaggart did not guess that this was why she looked back every now and then. He was satisfied to let her go on. When she turned from the narrow trail into a side path that scarcely bore the mark of travel, his heart gave an exultant jump. If she kept on, he would very soon have her alone—a good distance from the cabin. The blood ran hot in his face. He did not speak to her, through fear that she would stop. Ahead of them he heard the rumble of water. It was the creek running through the chasm.

Nepeese was making straight for that sound. With a little laugh she started to run, and when she stood at the edge of the chasm, McTaggart was fully fifty yards behind her. Twenty feet sheer down there was a deep pool between the rock walls, a pool so deep that it was like blue ink. She turned to face the Factor from Lac Bain. He had never looked more like a red beast to her. Until this moment she had been unafraid. But now—in an instant—he terrified her. Before she could speak what she had planned to say, he was at her side, and had taken her face between his two great hands, his coarse fingers twining in the slick strands of her thick braids where they fell over her shoulders at the neck.

"Ka sakahet!" he cried passionately.

ly. "Pierrot said you would have an answer for me. But I need no answer now. You are mine! Mine!"

She gave a cry. It was a gasping, broken cry. His arms were about her like bands of iron, crushing her slender body, shutting off her breath, turning the world almost black for her. She could neither struggle nor cry out. She felt the hot passion of his lips on her face, heard his voice—and then came a moment's freedom, and air into her strangled lungs. Pierrot was calling! He had come to the fork in the trail, and he was calling the Willow's name!

McTaggart's hot hand came over her mouth.

"Don't answer," she heard him say. Strength—anger—hatred flared up in her, and fiercely she struck the hand down. Something in her wonderful eyes held McTaggart. They blazed into his very soul.

"Bete noir!" she panted at him, freeing herself from the last touch of his hands. "Beast—black beast!" Her voice trembled, and her face flamed. "See—I came to show you my pool—and tell you what you wanted to hear—and you—you—have crushed me like a beast—like a great rock—Seel down there—my pool!"

She had not planned it like this. She had intended to be smiling, even laughing, at this moment. But McTaggart had spoiled them—her carefully made plans! And yet, as she pointed, the Factor from Lac Bain had looked for an instant over the edge of the chasm. And then she laughed—laughed as she gave him a sudden shove from behind.

"And that is my answer, M'sieu le Facteur from Lac Bain!" she cried tauntingly as he plunged headlong into the deep pool between the rock walls.

CHAPTER XIV.

From the edge of the open Pierrot saw what had happened, and he gave a great gasp. He drew back among the balsams. This was not a moment for him to show himself. While his heart drummed like a hammer his face was filled with joy.

On her hands and knees the Willow was peering over the edge. Bush McTaggart had disappeared. He had gone down like the great clod he was; the water of her pool had closed over him with a dull splash that was like a chuckle of triumph. He appeared now, beating out with his arms and legs to keep himself afloat, while the Willow's voice came to him in taunting cries.

"Bete noir! Bete noir! Beast! Beast!"

She flung small sticks and tufts of earth down at him fiercely; and McTaggart, looking up as he gained his equilibrium, saw her leaning so far over that she seemed about to fall. Her long braids hung down into the chasm, gleaming in the sun; her eyes were laughing while her lips taunted him; he could see the flash of her white teeth.

"Bast! Beast!"

He began swimming, still looking up at her. It was a hundred yards down the slow-going current to the beach of shale where he could climb out, and a half of that distance she followed him, laughing and taunting him, and flinging down sticks and pebbles. He noted that none of the sticks or stones was large enough to hurt him. When at last his feet touched bottom, she was gone.

Swiftly Nepeese ran back over the trail, and almost into Pierrot's arms. She was panting and laughing when for a moment she stopped.

"I have given him the answer, Neotaw! He is in the pool."

Nepeese was out of breath when she reached the cabin. Baree, fastened to a table-leg by a babiche thong, heard her pause for a moment at the door. Then she entered and came straight to him. During the half-hour of her absence Baree had scarcely moved.

Her touch thrilled him. It sent little throbs through his body, a tremulous quivering which she could feel and which deepened the glow in her eyes. Gently her hand stroked his head and his back. It seemed to Nepeese that he did not breathe. Under the caress of her hand his eyes closed. In another moment she was talking to him, and at the sound of her voice his eyes shot open.

FIGHTING FOR BABY'S HEALTH

Is the Constant Care of Every Young Mother

The young mother has a constant care in looking after the welfare of her little ones. Childhood ailments come on so suddenly—sometimes with a minute's warning—the mother may have a very sick baby on her hands before help can be obtained. That is unless she has a remedy in the house which she can safely give the baby for any of the many minor ailments of babyhood and childhood.

Such a remedy is found in Baby's Own Tablets. Thousands of mothers throughout the country always keep a box of the Tablets on hand and they proclaim them to be without an equal for sweetening baby's stomach; regulating his bowels, and thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making the dreaded teething period easy.

Baby's Own Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy. They are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any other narcotic drug which are so harmful to the future welfare of the baby. Mothers, if you value the life of your little ones give him Baby's Own Tablets to ward off illness. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or will be sent to any address, post paid, at 25 cents a box by addressing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE CANTASSIUM TREATMENT

Experience of many thousands confirms the great English authority's statement: "CANCER IS A BLOOD DISEASE CAUSED BY POTASSIUM DEFICIENCY," and, if such deficiency is remedied, even far advanced and apparently hopeless cases will be brought without surgical operation, and without need of any and needless expense. Medical men in all parts are recommending or adopting Cantassium Treatment on behalf of their patients, and hundreds of thankful letters from restored cancer victims speak of AUTHENTICATED RESULTS which bring justified hope to present sufferers.

A most interesting book, which will be mailed YOU free of charge, explains the CAUSE and the most rational methods of avoiding the disease, or treating it where it already exists. The co-operation of every reader of this paper is earnestly requested in fighting the Cancer Scourge by studying the Cause and Treatment and spreading the knowledge acquired.

Grand Duke Cyril of Russia Has Many Narrow Escapes

Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, apparently bears a charmed life.

He was blown up on board a Russian battleship at Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese War and since has had several narrow escapes, including a recent attempt to ascend the Russian throne.

Cyril was a passenger recently on the Paris-Prague express which, while running at a high rate of speed, dashed into a freight train, during a fog, 18 miles from Strasbourg, France.

Two train hands were killed in the collision and one passenger was slightly injured.

Cyril was not hurt.

Cold on the Chest Best Treated This Way

When the throat is sore, and the chest tight and full of congestion, something strong enough to penetrate through the tissues must be applied quickly. To get the quickest results, apply good old Nerviline. Rub it in deeply; it won't burn or blister, but it will bring the blood to the surface, will draw out the inflammation and subdue your cold and make you well in a short time. No other liniment so potent, so strong, so quick to bring soothing and relief as reliable old Nerviline. Nearly fifty years in use, and sold in most countries throughout the world in large 85c bottles.

Girls' Attractive Suspender Skirt and Blouse

A charming frock featuring the plaited flare at the sides, which is bound to be a favorite with girls, whether on a vacation or at school. Individuality in taste may be expressed by having the skirt of one color material, and the blouse of another but harmonizing color. Many mothers have short ends of material in the sewing room, and this model offers an excellent opportunity to use them. The accompanying diagram gives a very clear outline of the frock, and a chart with full directions is included with the pattern. Sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 10 years requires 2 yards of 36-inch material for the jumper, and 1 1/2 yards for the blouse. Price 20 cents.

Home sewing brings nice clothes within the reach of all, and to follow the mode is delightful when it can be done so easily and economically by following the styles pictured in our new Fashion Book. A chart accompanying each pattern shows the material as it appears when cut out. Every detail is explained so that the inexperienced sewer can make without difficulty an attractive dress. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

The Causation Of Cancer

Faulty Diet Largely Responsible For This Ailment

Much public interest has manifested itself regarding the cause of cancer, but few people mentally digest the fact that to primitive races leading primitive lives cancer is unknown. With this evidence of the disease being confined to civilization is supplemented the knowledge of thousands of cancer patients having been restored to normal health by the administration of certain assimilable potash salts. Dr. Robert Bell, M.D., F.R.C.P.S., etc., for many years the leading cancer surgeon of Europe, promptly relinquished the extremely lucrative part of his practice when he demonstrated beyond dispute that cancer is a blood disease resulting from refined and faulty diet which deprives its consumers of the vital principles essential to disease resistance and health preservation. In recent years, the English press has frequently drawn attention to the phenomenal success attending Dr. Bell's purely medicinal and dietetic treatment of the deadly disease, in conjunction with hygienic precaution.

A letter from Barton Scammell, M.S.C.I., published in London Eng. Truth, 26 August, 1925, contains the following statements which profound experience has proved of vital importance to many cancer victims: "The radio-active alkali, potash, is the great oxygen-attracting element in the body. It forms over 70 per cent. of the mineral ash of the red corpuscles in the blood. Owing to certain defects in diet and the preparation of food, the modern civilized human being suffers from 'potassium starvation,' and the increase of cancer is a corollary of this state of affairs. The great work of the late Dr. Forbes Ross finds an explanation in this discovery, also it explains the success secured in the treatment of cancer with the administration of attenuated solutions of citrate and radio-phosphate of potash—which restore the recuperative power of the blood, thus causing the cancer to retrograde and disappear."

If fathers and mothers of the Great Northwest would abandon their white flour, white sugar and other "foodless foods" from which all health-preserving potash has been refined, and adopt whole wheat bread, wholesome brown sugar and such "roughage" in their diet as is necessary to avert the now universal constipation, which is the forerunner of every case of cancer, much will be done to prevent the increase of this self-inflicted disease.

So long, however, as only the eye and vitiated palate are pleased while the digestive organs are overworked until ill-health, disease and premature death terminate the life of each follower of the existing diet of a civilized world, the death rates from cancer and other self-inflicted diseases will continue to rapidly increase. Cancer and a normally healthy blood stream are incompatible, but if we persist in indulging in food poisoning for the sake of the deceptive auto-intoxication it produces before striking us in our weakest spot, the inevitable penalty exacted by outraged Nature must be paid in due time.—Charles Walter, 51 Brunswick Avenue, Toronto, Canada.

Nobel Prizes Total About Four Million

Germany and France Head List With England Third

Prizes of about $4,000,000 given to 125 winners, will be the record of the Nobel Foundation on the occasion of its 25th annual awarding of prizes at the end of this year.

Funds of the foundation now amount to slightly over $8,000,000, and the prizes to be given this year will be 118,165 kroner each, or about $31,000. Besides the five regular prizes of 1925, three were held over from 1924, namely, the awards in physics, chemistry and the peace prize.

Of the prizes awarded during the years 1901-1924 nine have gone to America and seven to Sweden. Germany tops the list with 26 prizes, closely followed by France with 21 and England with 14 awards.

INDEPENDENCE IS A CIRCUM- STANCE.

Being the only newspaper published in Didsbury, and catering to and being patronized by readers belonging to various political parties the PIONEER has thus far in the campaign studiously, and we think, advisedly, refrained from commenting upon the political issues of the day. In this it is following a course that has been already set and an example that is being generally copied wherever there is but one newspaper published.

To some this may seem a somewhat indifferent attitude to take up, others may conceive it to be a shirking of one's responsibility. But it should always be borne in mind that during the period of an election especially an editor is not always regarded as a prophet in his own country, and political criticism on his part, however impartially put, is not appreciated by all parties alike.

In this campaign there are three candidates, representing three distinct political parties. It is obviously impossible for the PIONEER to support all three, nor can it support one without risking a demand from the other two for equal recognition—a demand that under the circumstances would be justified.

And as it does not see its way clear to follow the procedure of a certain king in Biblical history, it will keep its organ whole by adopting editorially a policy of consistent (and biased) independence.

WANTED—A NATIONAL VISION

As election day draws near, and the political atmosphere becomes more clarified, the elector free from partyism, free from prejudice, and with a clear vision of the issues—and problems—confronting the Dominion, appreciates more fully the importance of his vote. The high taxation—and this covers a period of government by both Conservative and Liberal—the exodus of so many of our people, and the clash of interests between east and west, are questions which must necessarily demand and engage the thoughtful consideration of every resident of the Dominion.

As it stands the situation to-day is such as to cause serious misgiving. It justifies a demand from the electorate for nothing but the most rigid economy.

A more economical policy might and probably would quite appreciably affect the stream flowing south.

To gain a better perspective, however, of the problems facing east and west, one finds it necessary to lift himself out of his immediate environment and recognize his Canadian citizenship. Having in this way acknowledged obligations and responsibilities which this necessarily entails, the development which follows broadens one's viewpoint and prepares the mind for a greater spirit of toleration.

"East is east, and west is west," should never be made to apply to our country, as it is only in viewing the situation as a whole that the true status of a citizen of the Dominion is gained.

John F. Miller, eye sight specialist, of 404 Underwood Block, Calgary, will be at the hotel in Didsbury on Saturday, October 31st. Tell your neighbors he is better equipped than ever.—Adv.

WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday October 11th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gibbs, Willowcrest Farm, Didsbury, when their only daughter, Janet Marion became the bride of Joseph Paul Ficht, B. Sc., of Edmonton. The Rev. W. J. McNutt officiating.

The ceremony was performed under a pretty trelliswork arch of green vines and wedding bells. The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Grace Matthews of Calgary, and made a charming picture in a Parisian gown of hand made beaded cream georgette, with veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and carnations. Mr. Clifford Gibbs, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

After congratulations the assembly adjourned to the dining room where they sat down to a bountiful luncheon. The bride's table was lovely with individual vases of Ophelia roses and centred with the three-tier wedding cake.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a pearl and onyx ring and to the pianist a travelling case.

The young couple left on the evening train for Edmonton, where they will reside, the bride travelling in a rust colored cut velvet gown with rosewood brown bolivia cloth coat trimmed with sable fur and hat to match.

The many beautiful gifts gave evidence of the affection and esteem in which the contracting parties are held by their many friends. Mr. Ficht is well and favorably known both in Calgary, where he and Miss Gibbs attended the Crescent Heights High School, and later in Edmonton where he received his degree, and is now the assistant in Agronomy in the University of Alberta. Mrs. Ficht has made a host of friends for herself during her stay in this district, whose good wishes for a long and happy wedded life will follow her to her new home.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gibbs, Mrs. H. Ficht, Rev. and Mrs. McNutt; Mr. Clifford Gibbs, Miss Ruth Matthews, Miss Grace Matthews, Miss J. Hamilton, Winnipeg; Mrs. B. H. Mercer, Calgary; Mr. F. Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Matthews, Mrs. F. Costin, Mrs. J. V. Davidson, Mrs. W. J. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Clarke, Mr. Ernest Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Revell, Mrs. Robert Hamper, Mr. Geo. Julien, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Studer.

Record your vote October 29th.

Victoria's Unique Amusement Centre Officially Opened

With appropriate pomp and ceremony the Hon. W. G. Nichol, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, and D. C. Coleman, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, opened Crystal Gardens, Victoria—the largest and finest salt water swimming pool and amusement centre in Canada—recently.

The building takes the form of a winter garden, sunlit by day and glittering by night with an atmosphere heavy with the scent of flowers and throbbing with music from a string orchestra. Built on a two-acre property, facing the fragrant gardens of the Empress Hotel, Crystal Gardens is of generous proportions, with lower portions in brick and concrete, and superstructure of steel and specially designed glass. The interior is a huge conservatory with vines and palms and plants growing in abundance, and in the centre the largest salt water swimming pool on the continent.

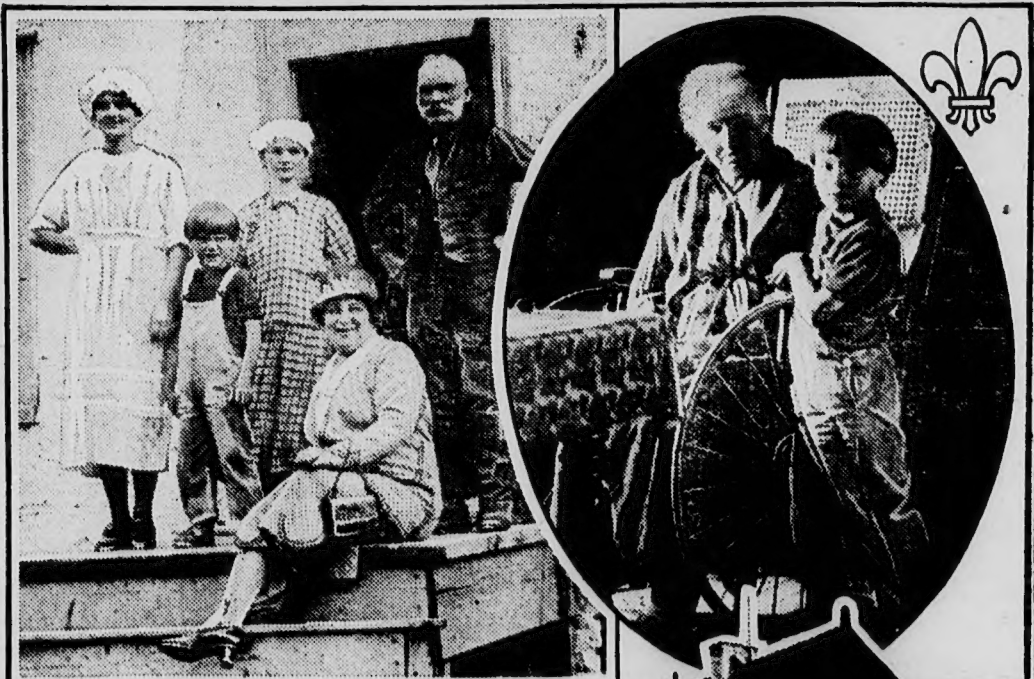

To give a Roman Bath effect, from the peacock alley promenades and dancing floors above, there are concrete steps down to the landing of the pool, which is 150 feet long, 40 feet wide and 9 feet deep at its deepest point. Salt water is pumped from Beacon Hill Beach, a distance of nearly a mile, and maintained at a temperature of 70 degrees, and kept in constant circulation. The water is, of course, sterilized, and bathers, before entering the pool, pass under showers of varying temperatures. Among other attractions there are a gymnasium, hot salt water baths, art gallery, two dancing floors and a tea-room.

Upper—The Swimming-pool. Lower—A section of the Promenade. Anticipating that the present season will see the beginning of a large tourist movement toward Vancouver Island the Canadian Pacific Railway has considerably augmented its service between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle—The Triangular Route and their two new steamships, the Princesses Kathleen and Marguerite, the largest ever placed on the Pacific Coast service.

CREATOR OF THE "SCARLET PIMPERNEL" IN QUEBEC

(Upper right) The eldest member and the youngest of the Asselin family living in the oldest house in Quebec. (Upper left) Baroness Orczy with the Asselin family. (Lower) the two hundred-and-fifty-year-old Asselin Farm House at St. Famille, near Ile D'Orleans, just outside Quebec.

Baroness Orczy who is visiting Canada in order to secure local color for a new romance which she has in mind, has already written 32 novels in addition to "The Scarlet Pimpernel," of which three and a half million copies have been sold and which has been translated into fourteen languages. Of recent years her books have become very popular in Japan. Although her novels are now sold at the rate of over a thousand copies a day, the publishers were at first slow to recognize the popularity of her appeal and "The Scarlet Pimpernel" was refused by no less than twelve publishing houses.

Although she has chosen the English language as her medium, the Baroness is by birth a Hungarian and did not learn English until she was fifteen. Her father to whom Liszt dedicated one of his Hungarian rhapsodies believed in giving his children an education which would enable them to earn their own living if necessity arose, and the Baroness therefore trained for and passed the London matriculation examination so as to qualify as a teacher. She also studied art, but eventually chose the less prosaic career of a playwright and novelist in which she has achieved a phenomenal success.

This is her first trip to the continent but Canada has always appealed to Baroness Orczy as a land of great wheat plains and rugged mountains with a climate not unlike that of her own native Hungary. While most of her stories have dealt with the romantic periods in French or English history, she has occasionally taken modern themes as for instance in her story "The Emperor's Candlesticks" and she is particularly interested to see the influence of new conditions in a new country upon European races.

Her favorite author is Joseph Conrad, who like herself learned English as a foreign language although he eventually attained a greater mastery of that language than any English writer of his day.

While seeking local color in the vicinity of Quebec City, Baroness Orczy came across one of the oldest houses in the province—the Asselin Farm House, which is two hundred and fifty years old, and is in the tiny old-world village of St. Famille, in Ile D'Orleans, just outside Quebec. The Baroness quickly made friends of the Asselin family and was fascinated by their beautiful heir-loom. In the picture showing the interior of the ancient house, the oldest surviving member of the family is seen with her great-grandson to whom she loves to tell stories of the stirring romantic days the old province has passed through.

Over Sixty Ways To Serve Cheese

Beautiful Recipe Book May Be Obtained Free of Cost

That Canada will soon take its place with the nations that are the largest consumers of cheese seems assured considering the steady increase in its consumption in the past few years, since the Kraft-MacLaren Cheese Company, of Montreal, introduced the five-pound box. The Kraft Company were the originators of the popular (in foil-wrapped cheese, without rind or waste, in the five-pound wooden box, and while the original product has had many imitators, none have been able to produce a cheese of the same uniform quality and flavor because the Kraft process is protected by patents. The company does not make cheese, therefore, it is not competing with the cheese factories. But it purchases Canadian cheese in enormous quantities, thus keeping the cheese factories busy and adding to their prosperity and that of the farmers. Kraft Cheese is simply a scientific blending of these manufactured cheeses by means of the patented Kraft process which absolutely controls the flavor.

The company has just issued a beautiful recipe book showing over 60 different ways in which cheese may be served. Many of the dishes are illustrated in natural colors. A copy may be obtained, free, on writing to the company, in Montreal, mentioning this paper.

Flame Burns Under Water

Produces Steam Power Capable of Driving Locomotive or Steamship

By a process evolved by Mr. Oscar Brunler, a young English engineer, a submerged flame, burning in direct contact with water, can produce instantly steam power capable of driving a locomotive or a steamship. The method is applicable also to chemical solutions, for purposes of concentration. With a generator measuring three feet by four feet six inches, Mr. Brunler claims he could generate power sufficient to drive a locomotive from London to Glasgow and back. Its application to shipping would enable a liner to leave harbor immediately, it is claimed. The flame is produced by a mixture of oil and air, which is ignited after contact with the water, where it burns fiercely, attaining a heat of four thousand degrees Fahrenheit. In addition to its mechanical applications, the principle can be applied to the interests of agriculture in the production of nitric acid and calcium nitrate, by regulating the amount of air burned in the flame.

Alberta Residents Will Be Able to Communicate by Phone With New York

It will not be long before Alberta people will be able to hold telephone communication with New York, San Francisco, and other points in the United States. Within the next three months, connection will be established between the Alberta Government telephone system and the Transcontinental telephone system in the States, by means of three long distance lines which are to be brought to the southern border of the province by way of the mountain states telephone system in Montana. This will provide almost continent-wide telephone connection for Alberta.

Adapts Rotor To Airplane

Austrian Engineer Applies Flettner Principle to Air Travel

Successful adaptation of the rotor to the airplane is claimed to have been accomplished by an Austrian engineer, Herr Gligorin. The inventor is a graduate of Vienna University, and for several years he has been connected with various Austrian and Hungarian airplane firms, and is a qualified pilot.

"My invention," he says, "is a combined propeller and rotor-driven plane, and is an application to air travel of the Flettner principle."

Herr Gligorin says he believes he can make the flight to New York from Europe in less than twelve hours. He claims that his model when tested at Vienna showed that it could travel at more than three hundred miles an hour with only a 120 h.p. motor, and reach a height of three thousand feet within two minutes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE FORTY DAYS AND THE ASCENSION

Golden Text: Ye are witnesses of these things. Luke 24:48.

Lesson: Luke 24:13-53.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 24.

The Text Explained and Illumined

Christ Appears on Easter Evening to the Eleven, verses 36-43. Luke follows his account of the resurrection of Christ (the empty tomb seen by the three women and by Peter) with an account of Christ's appearance that afternoon to the two disciples on their way to Emmaus, and then gives an account of his appearance that evening to the eleven apostles. While the two to whom Christ had made Himself known at Emmaus in the breaking of bread were telling the apostles in Jerusalem of their wonderful talk with the Risen Lord, He Himself suddenly appeared in their midst and said, "Peace be unto you," the customary form of greeting. Notwithstanding what they had just heard, they were greatly terrified, for they supposed that they beheld a spirit, that is, "a form recognizable as that of Jesus, but of Jesus not risen but come from the world of the dead disembodied or only with an apparent body."

"Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do questionings arise in your hearts?" Jesus asked; and then to reassure them, to convince them that he was a living man and not a disembodied spirit, he bade them see and touch His hands and his feet: "A spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold Me having," he told them.

"The resurrection body could evidently offer resistance to touch; but its nature escapes our conception" (Dr. A. E. Garvie).

Poland Paying National Debt

Only European Country Following in Great Britain's Steps

Poland is paying her national debt, and is the only European country which has so far followed in Great Britain's steps. Ratification of the agreement for the funding of the debt to the United States has been unanimously voted by the Chamber of Deputies. The agreement provides that Poland shall pay this year a sum of more than a million dollars and that the payment of the debt would be spread over a period of years until 1931.

Internal parasites in the shape of worms in the stomach and bowels of children sap their vitality and retard physical development. They keep the child in a constant state of unrest and, if not attended to, endanger life. The child can be spared much suffering and the mother much anxiety by using a reliable worm remedy, such as Miller's Worm Powders, which are sure death to worms.

Audience Goes In Costume

If you want to go to a new amateur playhouse at Hastings, Eng., you must dress like the actors do on the stage. "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," a play of the King James I. period, was recently presented and the entire audience appeared in ancient costumes.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

Manitoba Redistribution

A redistribution measure, which would reduce the number of seats in the Manitoba Legislature to 45, is under consideration by supporters of the Bracken Government it is stated. At present the legislature is composed of 55 members. Plans for registration of voters have been put forward, and a policy already has been adopted by the Farmers' Government in preparation, it is reported, for the next appeal to the country.

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brighter days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus they relieve colds and simple fevers and keep the baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Federal Elections 1925

To the Electors of the Red Deer Federal Riding.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been chosen as Conservative candidate for this constituency at a late date I am on that account not likely to be able to meet with you all personally as I should have liked to do. I take, therefore, this opportunity of setting my political views before you and venture to ask your support and your votes at the coming election.

I am a firm and convinced supporter of the leader of the Conservative party, the Right Honorable Arthur Meighen.

In particular I thoroughly believe in the measures proposed by Mr. Meighen for securing a better outlet for Alberta coal by subsidizing the freight rates.

I am opposed to the withdrawal of protection from the dairying and farming industries of Alberta by the Australian treaty which Mr. Mackenzie King's government has just carried through.

While I entirely favor the most friendly relations with the United States, consistent with full loyalty to the British Empire, I believe that measures of retaliation ought to be adopted by Canada in order to compel the United States to reopen their markets to the cattle and wheat of Western Canada, and also that the necessary steps should be taken by export tariff or embargo, to foster the establishment of industries in Canada by which the natural resources of our country should be utilized on Canadian soil and employment thereby provided for Canadians in their own country.

With respect to immigration, I favor a vigorous policy on a selective basis, and as a further development of such policy, I believe in the necessity for conferences and co-operation with the industrial and financial leaders of Great Britain with a view to enlisting the resources and experience of Great Britain for the development of the great industrial possibilities of Canada. By means of this policy it would be possible to provide suitable openings for great numbers of immigrants from Great Britain, and thereby the home market in Canada would be accordingly increased. The result of such development would be a swift growth of the population of Canada from which come reduced individual taxation.

With respect to public expenditure, I favor a rigid inspection of

To the Electors of the Red Deer Federal Riding.

Red Deer, Alta., Oct. 1, 1925.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been duly nominated by the U.F.A. convention of this riding as a candidate in the forthcoming Federal election, I am again offering myself for your suffrage.

It being obviously impossible for me to visit every point during the short time at my disposal, I am taking this opportunity of thanking you for the generous support afforded me, at the time of the last election and for the many acts of all public services and public staffs with a view to elimination of waste and the reduction of public expenditure to the lowest possible limits. I am entirely opposed to merely political expenditure entered into for the purpose of political patronage.

I further entirely agree with Mr. Meighen's general policy of giving equal opportunities to the whole of Canada by using Dominion resources to reduce the disability which the West is under, owing to its distance from the world's markets.

My policy may be summed up as a business-like development of Canada's resources by Canadian unity and imperial co-operation.

I have the honor to be, ladies and gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH G. LAFRANCE.

kindness extended me during the last four years.

While acting as your representative, I have endeavored to advance the interests of the farmer believing that upon his prosperity depends the wellbeing of this country, and I have endeavored also to assist business men, labor and various organizations of returned men in the solution of their problems.

I, have, to the best of my ability and judgement, urged, and supported such measures, as would promote community welfare, and national prosperity.

The questions of a revision of our taxation methods, the expansion of our trade, by freeing it from unnecessary restrictions, of rural credits, and our transportation problems still confront us, and demand solution.

I believe this country will prosper, when, and not till when we treat these various policies as business problems, and not as political issues, and that this can best be done by a body of men who are independent of the two historic parties who have alternately governed this country since confederation.

If my views meet with your approval, and my past record merits your confidence I ask you to again support me with your vote and influence at this election.

Yours faithfully,

ALFRED SPEAKMAN.

Voting

Throughout Canada on October 29 the question, "Have you voted yet?" will be asked not once but thousands of times. What the questioner will mean, of course, is, have you exercised your franchise? That is the superficial meaning, but is there not a much deeper, more significant meaning? Do you really "vote," or—just mark a ballot paper? There is a vast difference between the two.

Admittedly it is a duty every elector owes his country to exercise his or her franchise when called upon to do so. It is just as much a duty as paying taxes or obeying the law, even though no penalty is imposed for non-fulfillment of the duty.

Electors will be urged to "vote early," and this is good advice because there are always people who will leave the performance of this duty to the last minute, while circumstances may force others to do so. Everyone who can should, therefore, go to the polls as early as possible on election day. But while making haste to the polling booth, do not be hasty in your act of voting.

To come back to the original question, are you really going to vote or merely mark a ballot paper?

Are you going to vote Conservative, or Liberal, or Progressive because your father or grandfather voted that way, or because some friend or relative is so voting, or because the majority of people in your neighborhood intend to do so and you wish to be with the local majority? If so, you are not voting at all, but just marking a ballot paper.

Or are you going to vote for a particular party solely because you voted for it on previous occasions and you propose to be "consistent"? Consistent to what? A party name? A policy or policies which may have appealed to your forebears or yourself in years gone by and which were designed to meet then existing conditions but which do not necessarily have any force or bearing in 1925?

Perhaps it is your intention to vote for a certain candidate regardless of the party or policy he supports solely because you know him and like him—although you may not know him, you do not like the opposing candidate or candidates.

Again, it may be that you are influenced in your decision as to how your ballot paper will be marked by some purely local or sectional consideration which has little or no bearing on the welfare of Canada as a whole.

It may even be that some people have decided to mark their ballot papers in a certain way with no more worthy object in view than to "kill the vote" of somebody else they do not like but who they understand intends to vote the opposite way.

Not one of these are reasons supporting an intelligent marking of a ballot paper, nor are the motives actuating such marking ones worthy of an intelligent, patriotic Canadian citizen. Such conduct cannot honestly be dignified as "voting"; it is merely ballot paper marking, and, so far as Canada is concerned, worse than useless.

Stop and consider. On October 29 you are not voting primarily for a candidate or a party; you are voting for Canada, or ought to be. Parties and candidates are but the means to an end, but it is Canada, its welfare and progress which should be kept constantly in mind and guide the eye and hand when marking a ballot paper in the secret and sacred precincts of the polling booth.

True, the candidate beside whose name you place a cross is your choice to represent you in the Parliament of the Dominion for the next four or five years. True, the election or rejection of that candidate will have a bearing on the issue as to which party will be entrusted with the responsibilities of government and of formulating the policies and directing the administration of the Dominion.

But these two issues—the really vital issues—are big enough to call forth the exercise of every elector's best judgment unworried by any of the petty, inconsequent, yes, altogether unworthy, considerations and motives which, unfortunately, are sometimes allowed to sway the feelings of people in times of election excitement.

If you were a shareholder in a large commercial enterprise attending the annual meeting of the company for whom would you vote as directors—men supporting policies which you were confident would result in increased business success and larger profits, or would you reject such men for some trivial reason or personal prejudice? Then remember on October 29 that you are a shareholder in the greatest of all great Canadian concerns, Canada itself, and that you are choosing your board of directors.

On election day, really vote, and do not just mark a ballot paper. Instead of hurrying into the polling booth and hastily scratching a cross opposite a name, stop with pencil poised and ask yourself: What is the best service I can render my country today? Then VOTE as your judgment and conscience dictates. This is of the essence of good citizenship.

Half a loaf is sometimes better than no chance to loaf at all.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 25

PAUL IN EPHEBUS

Golden Text: For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. I. Timothy 6:10.

Lesson: Acts 18:18 to 19:41.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:8-13.

The Text Explained and Illumined

A Silversmith Stirs Up a Riot Against Paul at Ephesus, verses 23-28. —The goddess Diana (Artemis), whose chief temple was at Ephesus, was the mother-goddess, the goddess of fertility, "the fountain of nourishment, the reproductive power that kept the great world ever the same amid the constant flux of things." Her shrine was constantly visited by crowds of pilgrims, and the making of miniature shrines for them and for the Ephesians was an important industry in Ephesus. There were tiny shrines which were worn as amulets, larger ones which were offered as gifts to the goddess, or were kept in the homes and even placed in the grave beside the corpse as a sign that the dead had gone back to the mother who bore him. Many of these little shrines made of marble or terra cotta have been found, but none of silver, the latter having been melted, no doubt, because of their intrinsic value. It was among the makers of these small shrines that no small stir arose concerning Christianity, or the Way.

Demetrius, a silversmith and maker of silver shrines, naturally gave considerable business to craftsmen and had therefore a hold upon them. These he gathered together with the workmen of like occupation, workers in terra cotta and marble, and reminded them that their prosperity came from their business. And then he reminded them how "this Paul" not only in Ephesus but throughout all the province of Asia had made many people believe that gods made with hands were not gods. There was grave danger that their trade would be taken away from them.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION

Why People are Low Spirited and Depressed

Nearly all women and most men suffer at times from fits of depression and low spirits. Everything seems a burden; then come periods of nervous irritability, headaches and weariness. People who suffer this way lack vitality because their blood is poor and nerves are starved in consequence.

The only way the nerves can be reached is through the blood. By enriching the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the starved nerves are supplied with just the elements they need. This is proved by the experience of Mrs. J. E. Daddon, 12th Ave., east, Vancouver, B.C., who says:—"About three years ago I became very weak and nervous. I had pains in my side and back, and also suffered from frequent pains in the back of my head and neck. I was hardly able to do anything about the house. I would wake with a start in the night and my heart would flutter so that it almost choked me. I tried much doctor's medicine, but it did me no permanent good. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial. These pills produced such a beneficial change in a short time that I kept taking them until I had used a dozen boxes. By this time there was such an improvement in my condition that friends would ask me what I was taking, and of course I was only too pleased to tell them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am now feeling like a new person and am doing my own housework. We would not now be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house."

You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Women and Asthma. Women are numbered among the sufferers from asthma by the countless thousands. In every climate they will be found, helpless in the grip of this relentless disease unless they have availed themselves of the proper remedy. Dr. J. D. No autumn passes without the paying of a long visit by Miss Agnes Keyser to the King and Queen at Balmoral. She stays for a fortnight or thereabouts, and accompanies the Queen on most of her walks in the ground, as well as longer expeditions. No other woman subject of any rank is honored by the Sovereigns in just that way; she can truly be said to be regarded as one of the family during her stay. For many years Miss Keyser, or, as she prefers to be called, "Sister Agnes," has been matron of the King Edward VII. Hospital for Officers, in Grosvenor Crescent, London. When Prince George had to undergo an operation three years ago it was there he went and when members of the royal household require to go to hospital they choose that managed by Sister Agnes.

BRITAIN TAKES STEPS TO CURB RED ACTIVITIES

London.—Police raided the headquarters of the Communist party in London and also one of the London branch offices and arrested six Communist officials. Numerous papers and publications were seized.

The Communist political bureau later issued a statement, describing the incident as "the first step in the new attack on the working class."

This, says the bureau, was foreseen, and it recalls the party's advice to form a workers' defense corps.

"The Communist party," it declares, "will not, and cannot be, smashed. Close the ranks, strengthen the party, continue to fight for class unity against the coming capitalist offensive."

Communist activities in England during the past few months have gone far beyond the propaganda and industrial agitation stage. Attempt has been made to foment a revolt against the government and a large membership has been built up, particularly among the foreign population. As a result of this threat against organized authority, police action commenced which was deemed necessary.

Trade With Russia

No Early Prospects of Trade Relations Between Britain and Soviets

Ottawa.—There are no early prospects of trade relations between Soviet Russia and Britain being restored with the Baldwin Government in power, declared Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, former home secretary in the MacDonald Labor Government, in an interview here.

When it was suggested that such a happening might have distinct effects on Canada in the matter of wheat marketing, Mr. Henderson said that there were other considerations besides wheat, and if Russia was to regain her large production of wheat, she would need agricultural implements, many of which Canada was able to supply.

Asked about conditions in Britain, the former home secretary said it was the industries which depended on export trade that were the hardest hit by present conditions. He said the feeling was strong in Britain in favor of Germany being admitted to the League of Nations, as it was felt that would help to ease the diplomatic situation and give better assurance of peace. Until that happened there could be little hope of betterment as regards economic conditions, he said.

Annual Sheep and Swine Show

Will Be Held November Third, Fourth and Fifth

Regina.—The annual sheep and swine show will be held here November 3, 4 and 5. It was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Exhibition Association held in the stadium. The dressed poultry show will be held November 3. Prizes valued at $450 will be given at the poultry show. Professor M. C. Hermer, Manitoba Agricultural College, will be the judge.

A. J. McKay, MacDonald, Man.; Professor H. Wood, Manitoba Agricultural College, will judge sheep. L. Hancock, Winnipeg, and A. P. Potter, Langbank, Sask., will judge swine.

Extension For Edmonton Post Office
Edmonton.—Extensions to the Edmonton post office which will involve the building of a new wing may be undertaken next year by the Dominion Government. The purchase of nearby property, involving an outlay of some $52,000 has already been authorized by order-in-council and part of this amount has been paid over.

Fires Hurt Fur Production
Olympia.—As a result of forest fires which swept areas from Northern British Columbia to Southern Oregon last summer, this section will produce less fur this year than many years. The dense smoke and fires came at a time when most of the fur-bearing animals were rearing their young.

Japan may send six girl tennis players to the United States in 1926 for tourney play.

Maritimes Ask For Freight Rate Cut

Brief Prepared For Board of Railway Commission Published

Halifax.—The brief prepared by F. C. Cornell, freight rates expert employed by the three Maritime Provinces to present their case to the board of railway commissioners for Canada, has been distributed here for publication.

It asks for "special attention from a transportation point of view" in consideration of the geographical position of the Maritimes and nature of their products in comparison with those of other provinces and in view of the fact that "the prosperity of the Maritime provinces depends to a serious extent upon their ability to merchandise the products of their natural resources and their manufactured products in the central and western provinces."

The brief declares recent changes in freight rates have wiped out considerations which were justly due the Maritimes and provided for in previous agreements. It asks for substantial reduction in added costs of freight originating in the Maritimes for Western and Central Canada and on freight passing through North Atlantic ports in the Maritimes.

Would Undertake Another Arctic Trip

Captain Bernier at Seventy-four is Still Vigorous

Quebec.—"I am still young and vigorous and as ready to start off again if it is believed my services are necessary, but if I am judged by my worth and have earned a pension I hope the government will grant it to me." Thus spoke the veteran skipper, Captain J. E. Bernier, commander of the Canadian Government's auxiliary schooner Arctic, and noted explorer, to a gathering of newspapermen. Captain Bernier, who is in his 74th year, has just returned from a trip to northern waters undertaken at the request of the authorities at Ottawa. While off the coast of Greenland he suffered a bad fall which struck by a swinging boom, but made light of the bruised side that resulted from the accident. However, he will be X-rayed. It is believed the voyage just completed by the Arctic was the last she would take with the veteran captain at the wheel.

Giant British Dirigible

Plan to Launch and Pick Up Planes in Mid-Air

London.—When the R-33, Britain's great airship, makes its next trip, expected shortly, it will begin a series of experiments in launching and picking up aeroplanes in mid-air. The idea behind the experiments is to use airships in war as mother ships for a flock of hornets to be launched from behind concealment clouds of smoke to harry the enemy. An apparatus like a trapeze has been fixed below the airship to which the plane will be hooked. It will be launched from the trapeze and it is to attach itself to the trapeze on its return.

France Can Use Wheat Flour

Paris.—France is to return to the use of all wheat flour as a result of the good harvest this year, and the law which made it obligatory, because of the poor harvest last year, to add four per cent. of rye to all the wheat flour used in France, is to be abrogated.

Should Exercise Caution

St. Paul, Minn.—Fright may develop stomach trouble, and jealousy may lead to acute heart disease, Carl D. Camp, professor of neurology at University of Michigan, told the Interstate Post graduate Assembly of Physicians.

Will Fund War Debt

Bucharest, Rumania.—The Rumanian newspapers announce that M. Tulcesko, minister in London, has reached a tentative agreement with the British Government for the funding of Rumania's £26,000,000 war debt to Great Britain.

Increasing Gold Output

Toronto.—If the July and August rate of gold production in Ontario is maintained throughout the balance of the year, Ontario's gold output in 1925 will reach a total of $30,500,000, as compared with $25,669,305 in 1924.

FRENCH VIEWS ON FUNDING OF WAR DEBT TO U.S.

Paris.—The French Government intends to send a counter-proposal to the United States relative to the funding of the debt to America, it was officially admitted at the ministry of finance.

The proposal brought back from Washington by the debt commission for a five-year "breathing spell" during which France would pay $40,000,000 a year, still is being studied with no final decision in sight, the United Press was told.

However, the reported intention to make a counter-proposal is taken to mean that the result of the Washington negotiations has already been rejected.

Britain Wants Western Butter

London Importers Send Representative to Saskatchewan to Solicit Shipments

Regina.—Representing one of the largest importers of farm and dairy produce in the United Kingdom, A. J. Mills and Company, London, C. V. Gillespie has arrived in Regina, the first representative of a London firm to come to Saskatchewan in quest of butter for the English market. He is soliciting direct shipments from the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries and other firms instead of through speculative channels.

Mr. Gillespie said the improvement in Saskatchewan butter in recent years, and even in the last year, was "amazing" British importers. Western Canadian butter had been elevated to a position second only to that of New Zealand, a country which, for many years, had held first place in quality.

He believed the Canadian west could, and would, capture a very large share of the total imports to Great Britain, and expressed his belief that the dairy trade in the west would grow to vast proportions.

University Head On Culture

Victoria.—"Culture" which has no bearing upon life, is exotic, artificial and as meaningless as the buttons on the back of a man's dress coat, or the nose ring of an African savage," said Dean H. T. J. Coleman, of the University of British Columbia, who addressed the opening session of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association annual convention here.

Register At The Hague

Victoria.—After depositing in the Peace Palace at The Hague, Holland, the register signed last May by 25,000 pupils of British Columbia schools, pledging themselves to observe the spirit of fair play and good-will among all peoples, Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, has returned to his home here.

Talented French Artists Arrive in Canada

New company of talented French artists which Mr. J. A. Gauvin has brought to Montreal from Paris for a season of French comedy, photographed upon their arrival in Montreal. The company crossed from Europe on the Canadian Pacific steamship Melita and remained in Quebec for a week or so before coming to Montreal to open the season. They are (left to right, front row) Mme. Marcelle Geniat, M. Georges Collin, M. Jean Garat, M. Jean Martin and M. Paul Mauge, a local theatrical man; (back row) M. M. Herraud, M. Rene Blancard, M. G. Vitray, M. Rene Montis, Mme. Marthe Marsans, Mme. Mala Florian and M. Adeline Fournier. Two members of the company, Mme. Marguerite Courant-Lambert and Mme. Jeanne d'Herblay were absent when the photograph was taken.

Urges Demand For Imperial-Made Goods

Lady Cowan Asks Canadian Women to Put Empire First

Ottawa.—That the women of Canada should foster the idea now so prevalent among the women of England, of demanding Imperial-made goods, was the desire expressed by Lady Cowan, a well-known member of the British House of Commons, who is among the delegates to the Inter-parliamentary Union, who addressed a largely attended meeting of the Ottawa University Women's Club.

Lady Cowan, who has been the president of the British Women's Patriotic League for the last five years, told of the work the women were doing in England.

The league has for its motto: "Our Country First."

"I am an internationalist," the speaker stated, "but I am a patriot and a lover of my country first."

Women today can become anything they want, Lady Cowan said. There are unlimited possibilities of public service and there is an open door to any profession. It won't be long, the speaker predicted, before there may be a woman premier.

Secure Settlers For Canada

New Methods To Be Adopted By Office In Britain

London, Eng.—How interviews will replace the typewriter, and the personal touch will be substituted for correspondence in order to secure settlers for Canada, was explained by W. Bruce Walker, Canadian director of European emigration, in an interview with a representative of the Morning Post. Mr. Walker stated that though the Dominion wants agriculturists, those who go on the land now will pave the way for the unemployed industrial surplus when other industries expand.

The Post, in an editorial extolling Mr. Walker's plans, regrets that some politicians and certain newspapers lead Canadians to believe that England's day is done and that the greater part of her population is existing on doles.

Would Abolish Level Crossings

Attorney-General of Ontario Says This the Only Real Safeguard

Toronto.—Having in mind the terrible tragedy at Scarboro Junction, near here, when six persons lost their lives when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Canadian National flyer, Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general of Ontario, stated that the abolition of level crossings is the only real safeguard to human life.

He refuses to entertain any thought of half-way measure such as compelling motorists to come to a stop at every level crossing, as suggested by an official of the Canadian National Railways.

SECURITY PACT TO PREVENT FUTURE WARS IN EUROPE

Locarno.—If France can secure suitable guarantee for her eastern allies it seems probable that the long sought for security pact which would apparently make future wars in Europe impossible will shortly become effective.

In principle the greater opinion of the pact has been agreed upon, but there still remains to be ironed out satisfactorily for Germany and France the question of guarantees for the integrity of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

There is optimism that a formula for this, in the nature of mutual guarantees under the League of Nations covenant, will be found.

The Polish problem, particularly the question of the Polish corridor to the sea, still troubles the conference, was the impression given by Right-Hon. Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, who said that he and Sir Cecil Hurst, the English jurist, had placed their services at the disposal of the delegates in an endeavor to reach an agreement concerning Germany's eastern frontiers.

Mr. Chamberlain was optimistic over the possibilities of bringing Germany and Poland together.

Sandow Dies In England

Was Professor of Physical Culture to King George

London.—Eugene Sandow, once hailed as "the world's strongest man," died suddenly Oct. 11 in London, where he had recently built up a practice as a health specialist. It is believed death was due to the effects of a motor accident in which he was injured some years ago. Like Sigmund Breitbart, whom he preceded as "the world's strongest man" and who died in Berlin recently, Sandow was of German nationality. He was born in 1867 and is said to have been frail in his youth.

Sandow was a great exponent of physical culture for the average man, and claimed anyone could become strong who underwent his course of training. His activities in this direction were recognized in England in 1911 with his appointment by Royal Warrant as professor of physical culture to King George.

To Hold Conference On Seamen's Strike

Parties to Dispute Summoned to Meet in Australia

Melbourne, Australia.—In view of the improved shipping situation as a result of the report of the unofficial strike of British seamen being called off, Mr. Justice Powers, of the arbitration court, has summoned a conference of all the parties to the dispute for October 19 in Sydney. He states the dispute exists in all the Australian states and is a serious matter for Australia. British shipowners have declared the ports of Fremantle and Perth "black," and the British seamen have declared the shipowners vessels "black," each side claiming the other is unfair, and the exports from Australia to England have been seriously retarded.

Western Grain Port

Predicts Large Grain Movement Out Of Vancouver This Season

Vancouver, B.C.—The port of Vancouver will handle at least 65,000,000 or 70,000,000 bushels of export grain during the shipping season of 1925-26, according to a prediction made by Leslie H. Boyd, K.C., chairman of grain board of Canada.

Mr. Boyd said he was not in a position to give any statement officially, but from his general knowledge of conditions he thought Vancouver would see a very large movement.

Meteorite Weighs Seven Tons

Aberdeen.—The third largest meteorite in the world has just arrived here from Greenland aboard the Danish schooner, Sokongen. Nobody has yet seen the stone, but Captain Pederson, of the Sokongen, says it weighs seven tons. Eskimos are attributed with the statement that the meteorite fell in 1918 and that they had been dragging it toward the coast on dog sleds since 1923.

Mrs. Cressman and Mr. and Mrs. Herber left on Tuesday for the coast.

Mrs. W. Wigglesworth is visiting her son George in Calgary for a couple of weeks.

S. G. Watt has taken over the house vacated by Mr. Ryan and is moving in this week.

Elmer Evans and Arthur Reiber spent the week-end in Calgary attending the Tuxis conference.

Mrs. P. Fair of Elkton left on Monday for British Columbia to visit a sick sister.

Gilbert Dageford, accompanied by his sister Margaret, left last week for an extended visit their brother and sisters at Portland, Oregon.

Owing to bad weather prevailing last week, Mr. Sharp, of the Opera House, was compelled to cancel the big picture scheduled for Wednesday, entitled "The pony express."

Keep in mind the Amistice supper to be given by the Union Ladies Aid on November 9th. All donations will be greatly received, kindly phone Mrs. McCoy about same.

On Saturday next, October 24th, the picture at the Didsbury Opera House will be "The teaser." Accompanying it will be a serial entitled "The riddle rider." Wednesday, October 28th, will be shown Rin-tin-tin in "Tracked in the snow country."

A district meeting and lodge of instruction of District No. 4, A.F. & A.M., was held yesterday (Wednesday) at Lacombe, where a large number of the Masonic fraternity participated in an interesting program. The officers of King Hiram (Didsbury) Lodge were extended the privilege of opening the evening session.

A harvest thanksgiving service will be held at St. Cyprian's church on Sunday, November 1st, at three p.m. As this is the first service at which the Rev. H. Clay will officiate at Didsbury after his return from England, it is hoped that as many as possible will attend. Will those who are desirous of contributing donations of fruit, vegetables, etc., kindly leave them in the vestry on Saturday, October 31st.

The winner in J. V. Berscht's potato contest is Alvin Snyder, who secured the $5 hat with a tuber weighing 5lbs. 14 1-2oz. Altogether, the competition was very successful, a large number of entries being recorded, and as the display in Mr. Berscht's windows testify, the winning spud was given a close run. J. Remple sent one in weighing 5lbs, one grown by F. Imm scaled 5lbs. 1oz., and H. Rennie ran the latter very close with one weighing 5lbs. 1 2oz. The display was one that showed very fully the capabilities of the district in this particular branch of the farming industry, and we imagine one would be perfectly safe in questioning whether any other portion of the province can equal it.
